LIFE GIVING WATER

Some years back while vacationing through France, I came across a revered site believed to be where, centuries ago, a holy man was visited by a stag (male deer) with a red and blue cross between his antlers at a fount of spring water in the region of Valois. For geography buffs, Valois is located northeast of Paris in the direction of Reims. According to the account dating from the 12th century, this holy man named Felix was seeking a sign from God as to whether he was to found a religious order or not. Felix prayed that God would show him what he should do. He took the visit by the stag with the cross, drinking at the spring, as God’s answer that he should indeed gather men together and begin a new religious order. Decades later, Felix eventually became a saint making this fount (or in French source) even more important to the religious and the local community. I was certainly inspired by this facet of history and honored to be able to see this centuries-old spring, as well as having a cold refreshing drink of the pure water on a hot summer’s day.

Have you noticed how often we take water for granted? We simply turn on a tap and there it is! No pumping from a well, no walking long distances to a communal site, no waiting for a delivery, etc. Each day, water is at our disposal. Many have proposed our need to be more conservative with our use of water for future generations’ necessities.

In recent years, we are drinking more and more water because scientists have confirmed that water is one of the most essential nutrients for the human body every single day. Have you noticed how a gallon jug has replaced the usual quart or pint of water with people exercising at a gym? When eating out, the majority of glasses on the diners’ tables is water. Likewise, it is wholesome to see the number of students in our SMS cafeteria who choose water with their lunch.

“Thus says the LORD: All you who are thirsty come to the water!” (Is 55:1) On this Sunday of the Baptism of our Lord, we indeed are thirsty. Our thirst for the Lord and His spiritual assistance over the last year have been fundamental in trying to deal with everything that has come our way: Covid-19, death, unemployment, financial distress, loneliness, separation, shelter and sustenance, etc. We should always be thirsty for Jesus, our Life Giving Water. He fortifies us with His grace and strength. The holy water (along with the cross, chrism, light and white garment) used as a symbol of our initiation into the Church urges us to go to the larger community sharing the love and peace of Christ as found in Sacred Scripture. As we begin this new year of hope, His love and peace are vital. Let us consistently remember that we can always go to our Life Giving Water!

Smile with Your Family

Baptism of a cat Johnny's Mother looked out the window and noticed him "playing church" with their cat. He had the cat sitting quietly and he was preaching to it. She smiled and went about her work. A while later she heard loud meowing and hissing and ran back to the open window to see Johnny baptizing the cat in a tub of water. She called out, "Johnny, stop that! The cat is afraid of water!" Johnny looked up at her and said, "He should have thought about that before he joined my church." 😊

God help the fish Sam Houston was the first president of the Republic of Texas. It's said he was a rather nasty fellow with a checkered past. Later in life Houston made a commitment to Christ and was baptized in a river. The preacher said to him, "Sam, your sins are washed away." Houston replied, "God help the fish." 😊

What will Jesus do? A man walked into a gift shop that sold religious items. Near the cash register he saw a display of caps with "WWJD" printed. He was puzzled over what the letters could mean, so he asked the clerk. The clerk replied that the letters stood for What Would Jesus Do, and was meant to inspire people to not make rash decisions, but rather to imagine what Jesus would do in the same situation. The man thought for a moment and then replied, "Well, I'm pretty sure Jesus wouldn't pay $17.95 for one of these caps." 😊

Parenting Tune-Up

Explain to your kids why Jesus was baptized, even though he was sinless. Show them pictures/videos of their own baptism and discuss how they are the beloved sons and daughters of God.

Importance of the Baptism of Jesus

The baptism of Jesus by John was a very important event in the life of Jesus.

First, it was a moment of identification with us sinners. Sinless, Jesus received the baptism of repentance to identify himself with his people who realized for the first time that they were sinners. (As given in the anecdotes, St. Damien, Blessed Mother Teresa, Gandhi, and Mandela identified with the people whom they served).

Second, it was a moment of conviction about his identity and mission: that He is the Son of God and His mission was to preach the Good News of God’s love and salvation and to atone for our sins by becoming the “suffering servant.” God the Father’s words, “This is my beloved Son,” taken from Psalm 2:7, gave Jesus the identity of God’s Son, and the words “with whom I am well pleased,” from Isaiah 42:1 (referring to the “suffering servant”), pointed to Jesus’ mission of atoning for the sins of the world by His suffering and death on the cross.

Third, it was a moment of equipment: The Holy Spirit equipped Jesus by descending on him in the form of dove, giving him the power of preaching and healing.

Fourth, it was a moment of decision to begin public ministry at the most opportune time after receiving the approval of his Heavenly Father as His beloved Son.

Marriage Tune-Up

Recall to mind that even before you called your spouse, “My beloved,” God had already done so at the Baptism – making and calling your spouse God’s own beloved son/daughter.

“This is my Beloved Daughter/Son”

Rev. Maxie Dunnam, a United Methodist Church minister, Bible commentator and writer, says:

“Edward Farrell, a friend of mine, is a Catholic priest who serves an Inner City Parish in Detroit. He’s written some marvelous books. One I would especially recommend is entitled Prayer Is a Hunger. Ed is a part of a small group with whom I meet each January. I’ve told you about this group. We call it the Ecumenical Institute of Spirituality. It’s an important group for me. Though we meet only for three days once a year, sharing our spiritual pilgrimages with one another, seeking to focus our minds and hearts on some growing edge, it’s an important part of my life. Ed is a part of it too. He’s one of the most genuinely humble persons I know. Serving some of God’s forgotten people in one of Detroit’s most depressed areas, he is quietly profound.

I never will forget the insight he provided me about this text. He said that Jesus went to the cross so that we too could hear the same word Jesus heard at his baptism - so that you and I can hear, “This is my beloved daughter/this is my beloved son, with whom I am well pleased.” Have you thought about it that way? Jesus’ paid the price so that for you and me, the heavens could open, and we could know the reality of God’s Spirit as a living power and presence, in our lives. Jesus wanted us to know the reality of Good News in the dark days of hopelessness and despair. The Voice which declared Jesus God’s beloved Son is still speaking in our souls, “You are Mine. You are unique and special. I am pleased with you. I love you. I love you so much that I gave My beloved Son for you. You are my beloved son, you are my beloved daughter.”

Thomas Merton's Depression and How He...!

Thomas Merton once described his experience of sinking into insanity as a young man. He was a very bright university student, but he had abandoned his studies in favor of nightclub and pornography. One night he retired to a hotel room. As he lay in bed, the window appeared to expand until it reached the floor. He heard a mocking voice in his mind saying, "What if you threw yourself out of that window?" The young man wrote: "Now my life was dominated by something I had never known before: fear. It was humiliating, this strange self-conscious watchfulness. It was a humiliation I had deserved more than I knew. I had refused to pay attention to the moral laws upon which all vitality and sanity depend." Well, this young man did begin to pay attention to the moral law. He began to put his life in order—and to experience inner peace. Merton eventually entered the Catholic Church and went on to become one of the most famous monks of the twentieth century. He found the mission of his life.

Jesus' baptism reminds us of our mission:

- to experience the presence of God within us, to acknowledge our own dignity as God's children, and to appreciate the Divine Presence in others by honoring them, loving them and serving them in all humility;
- to live as the children of God in thought, word and action so that our Heavenly Father may say to each one of us what He said to Jesus: "You are My beloved son/daughter with whom I am well pleased." It means that we are to let His thoughts direct our thoughts, His mind control our mind, His concerns be our concerns. In the church we all share the same intimate connection with Christ; we are all brothers and sisters in Christ;
- to lead a holy and transparent Christian life and not to desecrate our bodies (the temples of the Holy Spirit and members of Jesus' Body) by impurity, injustice, intolerance, jealousy or hatred;
- to accept both the good and the bad experiences of life as gifts of a loving Heavenly Father for our growth in holiness;
- to grow daily in intimacy with God by personal and family prayers, by reading the Word of God, by participating in the Holy Mass, and by frequenting the Sacrament of Reconciliation;
- to be co-creators with God in building up the "Kingdom of God" on earth, a Kingdom of compassion, justice and love, and to be the salt of the earth and the light of the world. In other words, He has called us to help others to see, through the love that we show and the help that we give, that God loves them, that He invites them to also be His sons and daughters and that He wants to be their helper and strength through all the troubles that life in this world can bring.

The Identity of the Peanut Scientist

Fr. Bill Bausch describes in one of his books George Washington Carver, the great black agricultural scientist, who did a lot of research work on the commercial and medical uses of the lowly peanut. He built a great industry through his scientific endeavors. In January, 1921, he was brought to Washington, D.C., to the Ways and Means Committee to explain his work on the peanut. As a black man, he was last on the list and so, after three days of waiting, he finally walked up the aisle to speak, ignoring the racial comments and ridicule. Later he wrote in his autobiography, "Whatever they said of me, I knew that I was a child of God, and so I said to myself inwardly, 'Almighty God, let me carry out Your will.'" He got to the podium and was told that he had twenty minutes to speak. Carver opened up his display case and began to explain his project. So engrossed was his discussion that those twenty minutes went all too quickly, and the chairman rose and asked for an extension so that he could continue his presentation, which he did for an hour and three-quarters. They voted him four more extensions so he spoke for several hours. At the end of his talk they all stood up and gave him a long round of applause. And all that happened because he knew who, and Whose, he was and because he refused to be defined by the labels of his culture.

Today's Gospel seems to suggest that Jesus received from heaven a fresh flash of realization of Who, and Whose, He really was (His identity) and of what He was supposed to do (His mission), on the day of his baptism in the river Jordan. The baptism of Jesus reminds us of our identity and mission. First, it reminds us of who we are and Whose we are. By Baptism we become the adoptive sons and daughters of God, brothers and sisters of Jesus, members of his Church, heirs of Heaven and temples of the Holy Spirit. We become incorporated into the Church, the Body of Christ, and made sharers in the priesthood of Christ (CCC 1279). Hence, "Baptism is the basis of the whole Christian life, the gateway to life in the Spirit and the door which gives access to the other Sacraments" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, #1213). Most of us dipped the fingers of our right hands into the holy water font and blessed ourselves when we came into church today. Why? This blessing is supposed to remind us of our Baptism. And so when I bless myself with Holy Water, I should be thinking of the fact that I am a child of God; that I have been redeemed by the Cross of Christ; that I have been made a member of God's family and that I have been washed, forgiven, cleansed and purified by the Blood of the Lamb.

St. Paul on Baptism

For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is no male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. - Galatians 3:27-28

God’s Press Conference

When likable Lou Holtz was announced as the new head football coach at the University of Notre Dame, he was touted as one who would restore the school’s football program to its tradition of excellence. Whenever a new leader appears on the scene, whether it is the new coach of a team or the new president of a corporation, a press conference is usually held to proclaim that leader’s qualifications and potential. Such press conferences usually create some excitement about the leader’s identity, and arouse our expectations with glowing promises about what this leader will accomplish. Today’s event of our Lord’s baptism is something like this. It’s as if God Himself called a press conference to reveal His Son Jesus as the long-awaited Messiah and to give us a preview of what His mission would accomplish.

Does the baptism of Jesus remind us of our own Baptism? This is the day for us to remember the graces we have received in Baptism and to renew our Baptismal promises: On the day of our baptism, as Pope St. John Paul II explains, “We were anointed with the Oil of Catechumens, the sign of Christ’s gentle strength, to fight against evil. Blessed water was poured over us, an effective sign of interior purification through the gift of the Holy Spirit. We were then anointed with Chrism to show that we were thus consecrated in the image of Jesus, the Father’s Anointed One. The candle lighted from the Paschal Candle was a symbol of the light of Faith which our parents and godparents must have continually safeguarded and nourished with the life-giving grace of the Spirit.” This is also a day for us to renew our Baptismal promises, consecrating ourselves to the Holy Trinity and “rejecting Satan and all his empty promises,” which our profane world is constantly offering us through its mass-media of communication. Let us ask Our Lord today to make us faithful to our Baptismal promises. Let us thank Him for the privilege of being joined to His mission of preaching the “Good News” by our transparent Christian lives of love, mercy, service and forgiveness.

The Power of the Spirit at Work During this Pandemic

The Spirit of God is often described as the power of God. The world’s definition of power is usually associated with control, wealth, and status.

The power of God in our lives is not the same power as defined by the world. The Spirit of God brings us God’s love and elements of His peace – especially during these difficult “Pandemic Days”.

If you would like to “inquire” about the power of the Spirit of God, Jesus, or our Catholic faith family, come to an RCIA Inquiry Session.

All who are unbaptized, baptized into another Christian denomination, or baptized Catholic but have never received BOTH sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist are invited. For more information, please contact Phyllis Stone, pstone@stmatthias.net

Watershed Moment!

Because of a devastating childhood illness at nineteen months, Helen Keller (1880-1968) was left both blind and deaf. Her life was rightly written up as a “miracle story” and became a play called The Miracle Worker (1957) with Anne Bancroft starring in the Broadway production (1959). But the “miracle” Helen Keller experienced was not any return of hearing or vision. The “miracle” she received was the miracle of her committed, loving family, and of her relentlessly optimistic and patient teacher Anne Sullivan. When Helen was seven years old, trapped in a world where she could only communicate through a few hand signals with the family cook, her parents arranged for a twenty-year old, visually impaired teacher to come and work with their daughter. Using American Sign Language, Anne Sullivan spent months “spelling” words into Helen’s hands. Everything Helen touched, everything she ate, every person she encountered, was “spelled out” into her hand. At first Helen Keller didn’t get it. These random motions being pressed into her palm did not connect with experiences she felt. But Sullivan refused to give up. She kept spelling words. She kept giving “tactile-verbal” references for everything Helen encountered. Finally there was a “watershed” moment, which was indeed water-powered. Helen’s breakthrough moment was as she was having water pumped over her hands and Anne Sullivan kept spelling the word for “water” over and over into her palm. Suddenly Helen “got it.” Suddenly she realized those gestures meant something real and tangible. They were naming what she was experiencing. The world of communication, reading, literature, human interaction were all made possible to one person through the gift of another person. The “miracle” Helen's teacher Anne Sullivan worked was the miracle of patience. She simply kept on and kept at it, showing Helen there were “words” for “things,” and there was true meaning behind all Helen’s experiences.

Baptism of the Lord

“And a voice came from the heavens, ‘You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased.’” - Mark 1:11

Through our baptism, we too, are daughters and sons of God. We are disciples of Jesus. As true disciples we are called to actively participate in our Catholic faith, not just be mere bystanders. This means working in collaboration with the Holy Spirit and discerning how we are being asked to use our gifts. Using our gifts for the benefit of others and not just for our own interests and comfort.

Bautizo del Señor

"y una voz vino del cielo, ‘Eres mi Hijo amado; en ti me complazo.’" - Marcos 1:11

A través de nuestro bautismo, también nosotros somos hijos de Dios. Somos discípulos de Jesús. Como verdaderos discípulos somos llamados a participar activamente en nuestra fe Católica, no solo a ser simples espectadores. Esto significa trabajar en colaboración con el Espíritu Santo y discernir como se nos pide utilizar nuestros dones. Significa utilizar nuestros dones para el beneficio de otros y no solo para nuestro propio interés y comodidad.

Dear Friends and Fellow Parishioners,

Happy New Year. I hope you had a blessed, healthy, and happy Advent and Christmas season. I am writing to you as the Chair of our Pastoral Council about a matter of great importance to the financial health of our Parish. Life certainly was unusual and difficult in 2020, but new possibilities also have emerged. New ways to use technology to enhance connectedness (i.e., “Zoom” meetings), facilitate learning, and reduce travel are just a few examples. In our faith lives, the transition to participating in Mass virtually has been such a blessing. Since so many of us have the comfort and convenience of experiencing Mass in our homes or even from our cars, why not take the same opportunity to commit to St. Matthias’s online giving in 2021 to make sure you are not allowing the pandemic to disrupt your contributions to our weekly Mass collections.

Needless to say, our collective responsibility to the financial stability of our Parish has been shaken as a result of the pandemic and the loss of key events like our carnival. Like many parishes, we find ourselves working hard to recover from the challenges of 2020 and to minimize the impact of the pandemic on our Parish community. One way to assist in those efforts is online giving. I am optimistic that when you consider the ease and convenience of online giving - whether you participate in Mass in person, from home, or remotely from other locations - you will feel comfortable and fulfilled knowing that you are helping the Parish continue its wonderful work and mission.

Please join me and many of our other parishioners; give within your means and current ability. The process to enroll is very simple. Here is the link to the section of the Parish website with more information: www.stmatthias.net/give and then click on “Parish Giving.”

Let’s start 2021 with a new commitment to online giving. Have a blessed and healthy New Year!

Nick Grippo
Chair, Parish Pastoral Council

THOMAS AQUINAS: DISCIPLE AND SAINT via ZOOM presented by Mt. St. Mary House of Prayer
Most know St. Thomas Aquinas as a Doctor of the Church and eminent scholar. Do we ever ponder why he’s called Saint? Not for his work so much as his spirit and life as a disciple of Jesus! That’s what we will think and pray about on this eve of his Feast. Wed., Jan. 27, 7–9 p.m. ($20-$30 as you are able)
Presenter: Honora Werner, OP

Stewardship
Stewardship is a way of life, a way of thanking God for all our blessings by returning a portion of the time, talent and treasure allotted to us. Whether it is clothes for the poor, food for the hungry, outreach to youth, in education, in worship, or simply arms stretched out to someone who is lonely, the Catholic Community of St. Matthias encourages everyone to become stewards of the gifts they have been given by God, returning a portion in gratitude to God for the work of ministry here at St. Matthias and beyond our local community.

St. Matthias School is a PreK3 through 8th grade school rooted in faith, inspired by love, and dedicated to academic excellence. Before and After School Care Programs are available. Come visit! Contact 732-828-1402 to schedule a tour.
